Councilman-at-large Fred Koenreich, chairman of the committee, made the report following the annual inspection of city streets by the committee, the engineer and the service director.

Council also referred to the sewers committeee a proposal that a rental fee be established for the use of city sewers by property owners whose properties are outside the city limits but make use of the regular disposal system.

Several such instances have come before council in the past year and others are in existence, so council deemed it necessary to establish a rate of sewer rental for those own-

REPUBLICANS 171-144 V

Porter Warns Against Breakdown In Price Control System

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, April 17-The house voted 171 to 144 today to limit OPA's new lease on life to nine months, instead of to the full year requested by President Truman. The vote is subject to a formal roll call. Republicans, with the help of a few Democrats, took control-temporarily at least-of the price control legislation on the house floor. The motion to limit OPA's new life span was offered by Rep Wol-(R-Mich).

Earlier the house refused to kill OPA on June 30, defeating 178 to 34 a motion by Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) to strike out the enacting clause of the OPA extension bill. Rankin shouted to the house, "if you want to destroy the confidence of the American people in their government, just continue this communistic OPA."

posing far-reaching devisions of OPA still are pending. On the teller vote on Rankin's motion, reporters counted only 32 Republicans and two Democrats

Amendments Pending

Scores of other amendments pro-

The house then proceeded toward action on various proposals for amendments of the OPA law. Price Administrator Paul Porter said today breakdown of the present price control system could panic the nation's consumers into a "stampede" of costly spending. There already is a rapidly spreading belief among businessmen, Por-ter asserted in testimony prepared for the senate banking committee, that congress "will either scuttle price control completely or take action which will compel OPA to raise prices drastically."

Should that belief spread to the consuming public, he added, "the stampede will be on." Porter testified in the senate wing of the capitol as the house called for votes on what to do about the price agency. The administration has been seeking a full year extension beyond June 30 with present controls left intact. Warns Of Rise In Prices The OPA chief told the senators

"if this country, with $225,000,000,- 000 bulging in its pockets, goes on an economic bender, there won't just a comfortable little readjustment in prices. "A climb of 30, 40 or 50 per cent above the present level for the first He said Scott died of a broken year of the boom seems to me a onservative forecast." Porter boiled down his inflation fears to terms of an "average family," now spending $2,500 a year. Twelve months of 40 per cent infottion, he said, would boost such a family's expenses to $3,450 for food, clothing, rent and other regular items. KNIGHTS TEMPLAR INSPECTION HELD

President Urges U.S. Try European HOLD EDGE IN Diet Twice a Week

WASHINGTON, April 17-President Truman said today most Americans eat too much and it might be a good idea if their food consumption was reduced to low European standards for two days a week during the world crisis.

Asked at his news conference about a proposal that Americans try living on the European ration one day a week, the President re-plied that he personally liked the suggestion. He added that he didn't know why they couldn't adopt the diet two days a week.

Porter Warns Against Breakdown In Price Control System

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 17-The ouse voted 171 to 144 today to limit OPA's new lease on life to nine months, instead of to the full year requested by President Truman. The vote is subject to a formal Republicans, with the help of a few Democrats, took control—tem-porarily at least—of the price control legislation on the house floor.

The motion to limit OPA's new life span was offered by Rep Wolcott (R-Mich).

Earlier the house refused to kill OPA on June 30, defeating 178 to 34 a motion by Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) to strike out the enacting clause of the OPA extension bill. Rankin shouted to the house, "if ou want to destroy the confidence of the American people in their government, just continue this communistic OPA."

Amendments Pending

posing far-reaching devisions of OPA still are pending.

On the teller vote on Rankin's motion, reporters counted only 32 Republicans and two Democrats

The house then proceeded toward action on various proposals for amendments of the OPA law.

Price Administrator Paul Porter said today breakdown of the present price control system could sent price control system could panic the nation's consumers into a "stampede" of costly spending. There already is a rapidly spreading belief among businessmen, Porter asserted in testimony prepared for the senate banking committee that congress "will either scuttle price control completely or take ac-tion which will compel OPA to raise prices drastically." Should that belief spread to the consuming public, he added, "the stampede will be on."

Porter testified in the senate wing of the capitol as the house called for votes on what to do about the price agency. The administration has been seeking a full year extension beyond June 30 with present controls

Warns Of Rise In Prices The OPA chief told the senators if this country, with $225,000,000. 000 bulging in its pockets, goes on an economic bender, there won't be just a comfortable little read-

"A climb of 30, 40 or 50 per cent above the present level for the first year of the boom seems to me a onservative forecast."

Porter boiled down his inflation fears to terms of an "average family," now spending $2,500 a year. Twelve months of 40 per cent in-fottion, he said, would boost such a family's expenses to $3,450 for food, clothing, rent and other re-

Counter Attack In China

Whatever sedative effect might have resulted from Russia's decision not to scuttle the United Nations over the Iran issue is offset by a new Communist muscle-flexing crisis in Manchuria.

The clash between troops of the Chinese government and Chinese Communists is being renewed. The Associated Press carries the remarkable news that Chou En-lai, Communist general, is "counter-attacking" because government troops supplied with American arms, have been "pushing him around."

American interest in this almost incredible situation is attested by the fact Gen. George C. Marshall, former chief of staff, is hurrying back to China to resume a mission of conciliation in behalf of the United States. This country consistenely insisted on China's right to be regarded as an ally in World War II. It gave assistance to the legitmate government in Chungking. It helped that government defend itself against the open challenge of Chinese Communists.

The fact that the result of these efforts has been steady encroachment of China's native Communists as well as of refusal of Russian Communists to get out of Manchuria according to agreement is a major source of nervousness in what is beginning to look like a methodically-planned war of nerves.

Communism now has become the dominant political issue in China. It threatens to inflict on the warweary nation a long, bloody civil war. The United States is committed to the support of one of the factions in the struggle. We are not neutral.

The implications of Communism and civil war in China explain why there is no longer any firm hope of cooperative security in the wake of a war that was going to make all nations come closer together. The Soviet Union has wasted no time in letting it be known that worldwide promotion of Communism takes precedence over security.

In China, a Communist general orders a "Counterattack" on government troops because they dare to challenge the minority. In the Middle East, a Communist army stages maneuvers in a friendly government's territory and emerges with an oil concession.

Reconverting Our Ideas

In a recent speech about outworn ideas of finance that handicap enterprise and employment, Emil Schram, president of New York Stock Exchange, said the United States needs a "reconversion of thinking" on the part of government, management and labor.

In a broader sense, it might be said there is need for reconverting our ideas about almost everything. The reconversion would not mean adopting something new in all cases. Many times it would entail a return to something old suspended or modified by circumstances which no longer exist.

An-inventory of ideas, if one were taken would veal that many of those now having great effect originated in the circumstances of depression and war. Many of these, moreover, were not planned policies, but improvisations. Carried over into an era of postwar inflation, they are incongrous. Moreover, they are dangerous.

Mr. Schram points to the need for new capital to create peacetime jobs, a need whose fulfillment is blocked by government policies developed to deal with conditions no longer in existence. He points to the Tea house. dangerous carryover from wartime lend-lease of huge foreign loans made on a basis of politics and says foreign investment is the rightful task of private capital, not public funds. Yet, in his specialized field of finance, as in the specialized fields of management and labor relations these new-old ideas are shunted of Miss Naomi Votaw, Lincoln ave. aside by theories and practices which may have nothing to sustain them but momentum developed under circumstances no longer in existence.

Arguing The Technicalities

The rosy light turned on Iran's understanding with Russia in a statement by Prince Mozaffar Firouz propaganda director for the government in Tehran, seems to leave the United Nations security council and Hussein Ala, Iranian ambassador to the United States, holding a bagful of technicalities.

The effect of the statement is to embarrass all parties to the original controversy by telling them that they now are talking about a disagreement that to be discarded or rejected, probably old and worthno longer exists. The Iranian government says it has while projects or assets might offer hope of salvage confidence in the pledge of the Russian government to be used as nucleus or foundations for future develto withdraw its troops by May 6 and there is, therefore, nothing further to talk about.

diplomacy. But it is a rebuff to the United Nations, ordered methods and long-range vision. Work for enwhich had committed itself, without Russia's consent, to a test of the security council's power to handle what had seemed to be a bona fide case in its jurisdiction. Russia first denied the council's furisdiction. then liquidated the case when the council over-rode the objection.

On the credit side, however, is the equally important fact that the case has been settled, after a fashion. Russian troops, which were to have left by March 2, now will leave May 6, according to Moscow's pledge ing are in the picture. to Iran. But they will leave.

Counter Attack In China

Whatever sedative effect might have resulted from Russia's decision not to scuttle the United Nations over the Iran issue is offset by a new Communist muscle-flexing crisis in Manchuria.

The clash between troops of the Chinese government and Chinese Communists is being renewed. The Associated Press carries the remarkable news that Chou En-lai, Communist general, is "counter-attacking" because government troops supplied with American arms, have been "pushing him around."

American interest in this almost incredible situation is attested by the fact Gen. George C. Marshall, former chief of staff, is hurrying back to China to resume a mission of conciliation in behalf of the United States. This country consistenely insisted on China's right to be regarded as an ally in World War II. It gave assistance to the legitmate government in Chungking. It helped that government defend itself against the open challenge of Chinese Communists.

The fact that the result of these efforts has been steady encroachment of China's native Communists as well as of refusal of Russian Communists to get out of Manchuria according to agreement is a major source of nervousness in what is beginning to look like a methodically-planned war of nerves.

Communism now has become the dominant political issue in China. It threatens to inflict on the warweary nation a long, bloody civil war. The United States is committed to the support of one of the factions in the struggle. We are not neutral.

The implications of Communism and civil war in China explain why there is no longer any firm hope of cooperative security in the wake of a war that was going to make all nations come closer together. The Soviet Union has wasted no time in letting it be known that worldwide promotion of Communism takes precedence over security.

In China, a Communist general orders a "Counterattack" on government troops because they dare to challenge the minority. In the Middle East, a Communist army stages maneuvers in a friendly government's territory and emerges with an oil concession.

Reconverting Our Ideas

In a recent speech about outworn ideas of finance that handicap enterprise and employment, Emil Schram, president of New York Stock Exchange, said the United States needs a "reconversion of thinking" on the part of government, management and labor.

In a broader sense, it might be said there is need for reconverting our ideas about almost everything. The reconversion would not mean adopting something Friday. new in all cases. Arguing The Technicalities

The rosy light turned on Iran's understanding with Russia in a statement by Prince Mozaffar Pirouz propagenda director for the government in Tehran. seems to leave the United Nations security council and Hussein Ala, Iranian ambassador to the United States, holding a bagful of technicalities.

The effect of the statement is to embarrass all parties to the original controversy by telling them that they now are talking about a disagreement that no longer exists. breath by taking soda and other alkalizers if the true cause of your trouble is constipation.

In this case, your real trouble is not in the stomach at all. But in the intestinal tract where 80% of your food is digested. And when it gets blocked it fails to digest properly.

What you want for real relief is not soda or an alkalizer—but something to "unblock" your intestinal tract. Something to clean it out effectively—help Nature get back on her feet.

Get Carter's Pills right now. Take them as directed. They gently and effectively "unblock" your digestive tract. This permits your food to move along normally. OPA Considers Boost In Railway Freights

WASHINGTON-The OPA hauled out its price charts today to de-termine what effect a requested 25 per cent boost in railroad freight rates would have on living costs. Although an official of the agency emphasied it has no jurisdiction over rate matters, he told a reporter privately that OPA would intervene before the Interstate Commerce Commission if its study shows the proposed increase might have "inflationary tendencies."

Association American Railroads asked the ICC yesterday to grant a general 25 per cent hike in freight rates effective May 15. The carriers at the same time also asked the commission to make permanent the 10 per cent higher pas senger fares first ordered in 1942. Passenger rates now are due to revert to their prewar level six months after the legal termination of hostilities.

Anna Mae Reese Youngstown Bride

WASHINGTONVILLE, April 17. The marriage of Miss Anna Mae Reese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence M. Stolle of Youngstown to Edward Hallberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Hallberg of Youngstown, was solemnized in the Bethel Lutheran church in Youngstown at 6:30 p. m. Friday, with Rev. Emil Westlund officiating. Flowers, palms and ferns decorated the candlelit altar at which the vows were spoken. Mr. Stolle gave the bride in marriage.

She had as her matron of honor Mrs. Jack Truax. Best man was Kenneth Pyles and ushering were Jack Truax and Robert Thomas. The bride was lovely in an ivory faille gown, fashioned in the colonial mode, with fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves and a full skirt with weeping train. Her full-length ilusion veil was arranged with a becoming halo bonnet of tulle, adorned with satin bow knots. She carried a bouquet of white roses and carna-

Class A Softball League To Include 14 Teams This Season; DiMaggio, Greenberg, Feller, Williams Star In Opening Tries

BIG BOYS PUT POLISH BACK

Opening Day Crowds Are Second Highest In Baseball History

BY JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer Baseball is back on the gold were the only holdovers from the wartime campaigns in the select circle, dominated by ex-GIs, that delighted 236,730 fans at yesterday's eight big league openers.

The first day of the 1946 campaign, promising the beginning of a new golden era in sports, was a financial and artistic success. Attendance showed more than a 100 per cent increase over 1945 and was the second highest in DiMaggio, Williams, Greenberg and Ott revived the home run fever that has been running low in wartime seasons and Feller, Newhouser and Spud Chandler showed the boys some fancy pre-war chucking.

The Newhouser-Greenberg team probably was the most eye-arresting of the lot. Lefty Hal spun a neat six-hitter for his first opening day win but he needed Big Hank's line drive homer to get a 2-1 decision

DiMaggio and Chandler also profive-hit 5-0 shutout of Philadelphia before Shibe park's largest opening lost the verdict to Fireman Ken day turnout, 37,472.

Williams, making his first big league appearance since 1942, thrilled President Truman and 30,372 Washington fans with a 430-foot home run, the longest seen at Griffith stadium in 15 years. Tex Hughson sprinkled 11 Senator hits along the route for a 6-3 Boston verdict over Roger

BIG BOYS PUT POLISH BACK

Opening Day Crowds Are Second Highest In Baseball History

BY JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer

Baseball is back on the gold glamor names as Joe DiMaggio, Bobby Feller, Ted Williams and Hank Greenberg in the headlines

Mell Ott and Hal Newhouser were the only holdovers from the wartime campaigns in the select circle, dominated by ex-GIs, that delighted 236,730 fans at yesterday's eight big league openers.

The first day of the 1946 campaign, promising the beginning of a new golden era in sports, was a financial and artistic success. Attendance showed more than a 100 per cent increase over 1945 and was the second highest in DiMaggio, Williams, Greenberg and Ott revived the home run fever that has been running low in warseasons and Feller, Newhouse and Spud Chandler showed the boys some fancy pre-war chucking.

The Newhouser-Greenberg team probably was the most eye-arresting of the lot. Lefty Hal spun a neat six-hitter for his first opening day St. Louis Browns before the day's give the Giants and the 33,693 spec-

York Yankees who appear to be headed back toward the heights. Jolting Joe's 400-foot clout with Tommy Henrich on base eased the ace righthander along the way to a five-hit 5-0 shutout of Philadelphia before Shibe park's largest opening day turnout, 37,472.

Williams, making his first big league appearance since 1942, thrilled President Truman and 30,372 Washington fans with a 430-foot home run, the longest seen at Griffith stadium in 15 years. Tex Hughson sprinkled II Senator hits along the route for a 6-3 Boston verdict over Roger

German Wehrmacht had "rein-stated religious freedom" in the conquered areas of the Soviet union

"I put that freedom on a legal basis through my edict as Reich minister for the occupied European territories toward the end of 1941,"

Brushing aside charges that he actively persecuted religion, Rosenberg asserted the National Socialist state had given more than 7,000,000
